

Access Broadway premiered in 1999 as the first, “all inclusive,” talent competition and convention, featuring dance, acting and voice. Company founder, Broadway veteran performer Ron DeVito; developed this unique program while performing on Broadway in shows such as Cats, 42nd Street & Starlight Express.

Over the past decade, countless events have been produced throughout the country which has brought the “Broadway Experience” to students, teachers & aspiring performers. Numerous attendees have started their professional careers through this innovative program which proudly features constructive and diverse talent competitions, performing arts education and professional opportunities.
